

On Sierra Club Radio

I'm an old Sierra Club hand. Back in the 1980's, I was the Conservation Chair of the NYC Group of the club, and I was very heavily involved in Clean Air Act issues, particularly acid rain. I'm happy to say that Sierra Club Radio had me on yesterday to talk about the book and about President Obama's plans for his second administration to deal with climate change. Here is a link to yesterday's broadcast. (You can find me from 15:33 at the link.) I thought it all came off nicely. It sure helped that Orli Cotel, the host of the show, was so easy to be with on air.
